PRÉFACE

Le Répertoire dont je publie aujourd'hui un premier fragment a pour but de mettre à la disposition des égyptologues les documents généalogiques et onomastiques que fournissent les monuments égyptiens du Musée du Caire.

Le fonds primitif fut constitué par les statues sorties de la cachette de Karnak. L'idée m'était venue de le publier à part, comme appendice ou complément du Catalogue général des statues de rois et de particuliers qui paraît actuellement. M. Maspero voulut bien penser que je pouvais faire davantage en agrandissant le plan conçu et entreprendre le Répertoire généalogique et onomastique complet du Musée du Caire.

La tâche était lourde et difficile à mener à bien : j'ai essayé de m'en acquitter du mieux que j'ai pu. J'ai complété mes notes antérieures pendant l'été de 1907, j'ai consulté les publications de MM. Mariette, E. de Rougé, Brugsch, Maspero, Grébault, J. de Morgan, Loret, les volumes déjà parus du Catalogue général du Musée du Caire, les Annales du Service des Antiquités ainsi que les publications où les savants étrangers relatent leurs découvertes, le Recueil de cônes funéraires de M. Daressy et souvent et surtout le Dictionnaire de noms hiéroglyphiques de M. Lieblein.

C'est à M. Lieblein que ce volume est dédié ; je n'ai fait, en agissant ainsi, qu'acte spontané de reconnaissance et d'admiration. En revisant quelques pages de son Dictionnaire de noms hiéroglyphiques, j'ai pu, seulement alors, apprécier l'œuvre colossale qu'il accomplit. Les deux volumes qui le composent sont, sous leur apparence modeste, le meilleur et le seul outil dont on se soit encore servi pour reconstituer l'histoire des familles égyptiennes pharaoniques. Maintenant que j'ai tenté, non de rééditer son travail mais d'en mettre au courant une faible partie, je me rends compte de ce que M. Lieblein dut dépenser de trésors d'abnégation et de patience: et j'avoue, quant à moi, qu'il me semble, actuellement, impossible de refaire un autre Dictionnaire de noms hiéroglyphiques tel que l'a donné mon vénérable maître. L'œuvre est inimitable et devrait rester unique en son genre.

Je crois que, actuellement, si nous voulons publier tous les documents généalogiques et onomastiques qui se rencontrent dans les monuments et musées égyptiens, nous devons le faire autrement que ne le fit M. Lieblein. J'ai pensé, avec M. Maspero, qu'il serait utile de posséder pour chaque Musée égyptien un Répertoire plus ou moins semblable à celui que nous présentons aujourd'hui, non pas comme un modèle à suivre (notre prétention n'est pas si haute) mais comme un exemple ou essai de ce qui pourrait être fait [et même mieux fait si] l'on veut ou peut. Peu à peu, si notre exemple était imité, nous pourrions connaître exactement ce que renferment les collections égyptiennes, grouper les monuments, les repérer entre eux, et arriver ainsi à leur attribuer une date plus précise qu'auparavant: et cela pour le plus grand bien de tous, ce me semble, la tâche ne serait pas aussi considérable qu'on serait tenté de le croire tout d'abord, si j'en juge par ce que j'ai déjà recueilli dans les musées d'Europe. Mais ce qu'il fallait répertorier avant tout autre, c'était l'admirable, l'unique Musée du Caire, auquel nul ne peut être comparé. Les autres pourront venir ensuite et lui faire cortège s'il plait à Dieu.

L'œuvre générale pourra être achevée un jour ou l'autre : c'est alors seulement, dans bien des années peut-être, que nous aurons un ensemble, une nouvelle édition du Dictionnaire de noms hiéroglyphiques, considérablement augmentée, assurément, mais qui ne retirera nullement de la valeur de l'édition de M. Lieblein. C'est toujours l'inventeur qui a les plus gros labeurs à supporter ; ceux qui viennent après lui trouvent déjà la route tracée et parfois facile à suivre.

Pour composer un Répertoire systématique je devais remonter jusqu'à la période archaïque : je ne l'ai point fait encore. La majeure partie des documents que j'avais recueillis étant d'origine thébaine, j'aurais du retarder leur publication s'il m'eut fallu donner tout d'abord les monuments de l'Ancien et du Moyen Empire. Je me suis résolu à les laisser de côté momentanément pour aller au plus pressé, vers l'inédit que les récentes découvertes de Karnak ont fourni et que nous devons faire connaitre le plus tôt possible au monde savant : il résulte de ceci, que, sur les conseils de M. Maspero, le premier fragment du Répertoire contient les documents relatifs à la période comprenant la XVII^e^ et la XVIII^e^ dynastie. L'histoire d'Egypte présente aux débuts de la XVII^e^dynastie une coupure que j'ai mise à profit, une lacune que je n'ai pas franchie encore pour remonter jusqu'à Menès. Ce sera pour plus tard. Il faut parfois savoir s'arrêter à temps et remettre au lendemain certaines tâches pour en entreprendre d'autres plus urgentes.

Nous comptons faire paraitre bientôt les autres volumes qui se suivront chronologiquement jusqu'à la fin de l'Egypte pharaonique. Tous nos matériaux sont rassemblés et ce n'est plus affaire que de mise au net d'impression et de budget mis à notre disposition.

J'ai rassemblé dans ce volume, comme je le disais plus haut, les documents généalogiques et onomastiques fournis par les monuments qu'on peut considérer comme étant contemporains de la XVII^e^ et de la XVIII^e^ dynastie : j'y ai adjoint parfois des documents plus récents relatifs aux personnages que nous avions rencontrés sur les monuments datés.

Pour les présenter j'ai cru devoir adopter définitivement, parce qu'elle m'a semblé la plus pratique, la disposition que j'ai déjà préconisée dans un article du « Recueil de travaux relatifs à la philologie et à l'archéologie égyptiennes et assyriennes » [1] et dans d'autres travaux que j'ai publiés depuis, tant dans le même Recueil que dans les Annales du Service des Antiquités.

Je fais donc remarquer et préviens que les tableaux généalogiques sont en ordre ascendant c'est-à-dire que les générations les plus anciennes sont en bas et les plus récentes en haut du tableau, comme le montre l'exemple ci-contre.

J'ai joint à ce volume un index des noms et un index des titres qui le rendront utile et pratique. Il en sera de même pour les volumes qui suivront ; chacun d'eux aura ainsi son indépendance personnelle. Ces index particuliers permettront d'attendre les index généraux que je me propose de publier quand le Répertoire sera terminé.

(1) Comment doit-on établir une généalogie égyptienne. — Tome XXVIII, p. 1.

M. Maspero avait bien voulu m'autoriser à faire imprimer typographiquement cet ouvrage. J'y ai renoncé de mon plein gré et me suis astreint à le dessiner moi-même. J'aurais été très heureux de le voir paraître plus beau qu'il n'est assurément et j'aurais eu un labeur bien moindre et moins ingrat que celui que je me suis imposé. Mais le beau volume magistralement imprimé comme ses frères du Catalogue général aurait couté trop cher pour un livre que je souhaite voir employé par tous les égyptologues. Tel qu'il est, tel qu'il parait aujourd'hui, il a au moins une qualité : son prix est abordable à tous. Ceci rachètera, je l'espère, quelques-uns de ses défauts.

J'ai souhaité le faire excellent, j'y ai probablement échoué ; mais, malgré tout, je crois qu'il sera utile : c'est cet espoir qui m'a poussé à l'entreprendre et à l'achever à Karnak, au milieu de mes travaux journaliers. Le plus souvent c'était le soir que, las de ma rude journée de labeur, lampe allumée, je prolongeais ma veillée pour ajouter quelques pages à ce volume : je souhaite que mes confrères en égyptologie soient miséricordieux si quelques erreurs involontaires se sont glissées dans ces feuilles que, très las souvent, j'écrivis dans ma solitude laborieuse.

Il me reste, maintenant, à remercier tout d'abord M. Maspero qui fut non seulement le promoteur du Répertoire mais encore son protecteur constant, et les membres du Comité d'Egyptologie qui voulurent bien accorder les crédits nécessaires à sa publication. C'est ensuite M. Lieblein qui, spontanément, ayant su que je ne pouvais arriver à trouver le premier volume de son Dictionnaire, m'a prêté gracieusement son propre exemplaire ; puis MM. Daressy et Lacau qui m'ont fourni de précieux renseignements et ont revu mon travail en me signalant quelques-unes des erreurs qui s'y étaient glissées et enfin MM. Erman, Griffith, Wiedemann, Spiegelberg qui ont bien voulu s'intéresser à l'œuvre entreprise et me prodiguer leurs conseils et leurs encouragements.

A tous, je dis merci.

G. LEGRAIN.

Reliques d'Amenothès III

Le tombeau d'Amenothès III découvert en 1799 par Jollois et Devilliers se trouve dans la vallée ouest des Rois à Thèbes. Il porte le N° 22.
Un fragment de fresque (tête du roi) détaché de ce tombeau a été donné par Mr Letronne (1er février 1837) au Cabinet des Médailles et antiques de la Bibliothèque nationale.
La momie d'Amenothès III a été trouvée en 1898 par Mr Loret dans la cachette royale du tombeau d'Amenothès II. „ La momie, bien conservée et couverte de fleurs, porte le prénom d'Amenothès III „ et „ une longue légende disant qu'en l'an XII, quatrième mois de la saison Per-it, jour 6, le premier prophète d'Amon-râ Païnoudjim, ensevelit le roi Amenophis III .... »

Fragments du temple d'Atonou à Karnak.

Une très grande quantité de blocs décorés de bas-reliefs peints se trouve dans la maçonnerie des neuvième et dixième pylônes de Karnak ainsi que dans les fondations de la salle hypostyle. Ces blocs proviennent de l'ancien temple d'Atonou et portent les cartouches d'Amenothès IV, de Nofrititi et les titres du disque sacré Quelques uns ont été rapportés au Musée du Caire (Maspero. Guide 1906. p. 134. nº 361.

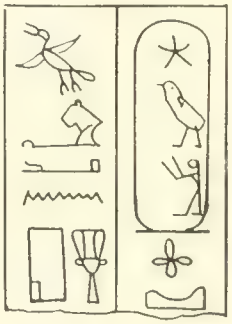
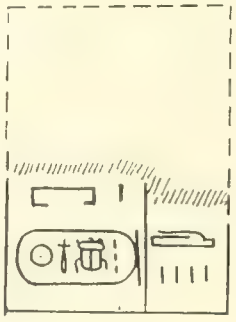
Certains d'entre eux mentionnent des apports d'offrandes, p ex:





Ces blocs fournissent les variantes suivantes pour les titres d'Atonou: A B  C   .
